Why Volunteer?

Studies show volunteering is good for your personal and professional well-being. Volunteering:

- offers incredible networking opportunities
- helps you retain and sharpen old skills
- is the perfect place to develop new skills
- can help you expand your horizons and explore new career options
- gives you visibility
- can be energizing/renewing
- makes you happy
- provides a sense of purpose
- increases socializing

Put your skills and talents in action by volunteering on the Board of Directors or on a committee for FMHRA.

Mission Statement: Use our collective voice to foster the business community and empower the HR professional with education of best practices and strategic leadership.
